The members of the Woman's club turned out 32 strong at the regular December meeting, Wednesday afternoon, at Mrs. J. M. Poorman's, who was hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. W. Settlemier and Mrs. Blaine McCord. After the business session Mrs. Kate Landen gave an interesting paper on the topic for the day, "Russia." Mrs. O. C. Wether rendered a brilliant piano solo and a sympathetic encore. The usual Xmas grab-bag, which had been filled by each member depositing a small gift therein, was soon emptied by the members taking gifts therefrom, and the "grabs" causing pleasurable comment. Later, the guests were invited into the dining room, where a buffet lunch of chicken salad, dainty sandwiches and grape fruit punch was served by Mrs. McCord at the dining table and Mrs. Settlemier at the punch bowl. The rooms, which were so tastefully decorated with potted plants, yellow chrysanthemums and holly, gave a Christmas look to the occasion.

On last Thursday afternoon a number of relatives were entertained by Miss Maudie Hubbard at the home of L. W. Durant, to a fine Thanksgiving dinner. The table was beautifully decorated in pumpkin colors and was laden with all the good things to eat one could ask for. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Killin, Mr. A. J. Killin, Mr. and Mrs. James Garrett, Mrs. Ella Killin, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Killin, Ralph Jack, L. W. and Ray Durant, Miss Maudie Hubbard, and Miss Alma Hubbard of Forest Grove. —Independent.

MUSICAL

THOSE who are reluctant about accepting press agent opinions of the musical artists secured for Salem this year will be pleased to learn the personal opinion of Miss Ada Miller, a Salem musician studying in Chicago, concerning Mme. Alma Glick, who appeared recently at Orchestra hall in the opening concert of the Opera season. Writing to Salem friends Miss Miller says: "Well, I have heard Glick, and if Salem people do not sit up and take notice when she appears there, I shall be greatly disappointed. Orchestra Hall was crowded to capacity. Before the first number was completed the great singer had every person in the audience her worshipper. Her voice is of unusual sweetness. Her pianissimo tones are clear as a bell, and as pure. Her voice is rich and full and she sings with great dramatic ability. It takes great art to sing as she does. 'Some Beloved,' from Atlanta by Handel was met with tremendous applause and she was obliged to repeat it. She was also forced to repeat songs by Massenet, and the Bird of the Wilderness. The latter is exquisite and if this is not on her program please send in a request for this to be given as an encore. She sang encores during her concert and at the end she gave three. She is very gracious and has a pleasing stage presence. I am so glad that you have been able to secure her and I know that Salem people will consider it a great treat to hear her."

The Glee club of the University of Oregon opened their concert season in Eugene Thursday night. Twenty men are in the club and have prepared a program of vocal and instrumental numbers of classical selections, Oregon songs and the usual "stunts," skits and feature entertainment. Their itinerary has not yet been announced, but it is expected that Salem will be one of the first cities visited in the annual tour.

Next Wednesday evening, December 9, the second attraction on the Student's Lyceum Course will appear at the Grand opera house. This date is being anxiously awaited by the management because it will determine in a large measure the financial success of the course.

While this is the first season the students' course has been offered, the quality of the attractions presented cannot be questioned since the appearance of the first number and in view of the fact that the three strongest are yet to come. The first audience was of a fair size, but to clear the expense of the course it will be absolutely necessary to fill the house at each of the remaining attractions. This course was designed to meet a need, namely, to give Salem a season of all around high-class entertainment at a price within the reach of nearly everyone. The question is, do the people of Salem appreciate such an opportunity?

The next number, which is to appear Wednesday evening, is Ross Crane, the greatest lightning cartoonist, clay-modeller and entertainer on the stage today. He presents an entertainment that is fascinating from start to finish and never fails to hold the attention of his audience throughout the whole evening. The next attraction, which comes in January, is one that alone is worth the price of admission charged for the entire course, the International Grand Opera Quartet. This company presents the principal parts of the grand opera in costume and is composed of singers that have had years of grand opera experience. The other two attractions, appearing later in the spring, are Noah Behrman, a humorist, and Dr. Thomas E. Green, the lecturer. These attractions are worthy of Salem's best people, and because they are being offered at a low price it is not evidence that they are of inferior quality, but that they should be supported to the largest extent.

Mr. McCord is offering the four remaining numbers for $2 and the tickets may be secured at Will's music store, the Commercial book store, or at the box office next Wednesday.

Mrs. Hallie Parrish Hinges and her pianists, Miss Beatrice Shelton, pianist, and Miss Joy Turner, violinist, will leave tomorrow morning for Albany, where Mrs. Hinges is scheduled to sing at the annual Elks memorial service.

Pupils of Miss Laura Grant appeared in an interestingly arranged program at their November recital held recently at the Grant residence on Center street. The guests included for the larger part the parents of the young performers. All the numbers were rendered in a musically and pleasing manner.

The program given follows: "First Regiment March," E. J. Kelly; "The Larkspur," W. C. Powell; "The Larkspur," Eileen Johnson.

Study: Paul Lee, Berger; Woodland Idyl, Nolek; Lucille Capps, Nolek.

Song—"The Gobbler," Spaulding; Pearl Turner, Spaulding; "March of the Sages," Mathew Deryl Meyers.

"Pleasant Pastime Waltz," Swinstead; Orla Welch; "Recitation—'A Thanksgiving Day,'" Donald Allison.

Study: Chester Korta, Mathews; "Queen of Night," Krognan; Margaret Davis, Krognan.

Song—"Silly Little Duck," Gabriel; Vernon Perry, Alvin Kurtz; "First Piece of the Star Performer," Gurlitt.

Milton McKinney, Gurlitt; "Tin Soldier Patrol," Heller; Emory Good, Heller.

"The Voice of the Heart," H. Van Guel; Alvin Roth; "Song—'Be My Little Baby Bombshell,'" Marshall.

Virgil Star, Cecil Deacon, Donald Schnapp, Kenneth Perry, Roy Morris; Emory Good, Donald Allison; "Twilight Chime," M. P. Heller; Willetta Welch.

"Souvenirs of the Ball," Stralshog; Donald Schnapp. This instructor has planned a more pretentious program for next month, which will be given December 12.

CLUBS

MONDAY night at half past seven o'clock, in the Grand school, an interesting and profitable program will be given, and a general invitation is extended to all who wish to attend. Rev. Robert S. Gill, of the Episcopal church, will give an address on Salem's new Social Center movement. Miss Virginia Mann, art instructor of the public schools, will talk of her work, and a special entertainment feature will be a song by the small pupils of Mrs. Carrie Chappel. Virginia and Helen Bransfield, two small girls, will appear in a duet, and Miss Bonney will give a piano solo.

The Women's Relief Corps was delightfully entertained by Mrs. A. L. Schmale on Thursday afternoon at her home on Union street. A fancywork sale, conducted by the ladies, was a pleasant part of the afternoon's diversion. The rooms were tastefully adorned with ivy and chrysanthemums and refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by Mesdames Short, West, Omstead, Dobson, Baffler, Skelton, Remington and Schott. Among the large attendance were the following visitors: Mesdames Hunt, Mummy, Dorsey, Lewis, Covey, Robinson, McCracken, Turner and Miss Bennett.

The mothers of the Highland school met yesterday in the school building to organize a Mother's club. A very large number of the mothers were present and splendid enthusiasm was manifested. A determination to co-operate and do all possible for the welfare of teacher, pupil and the parent was announced. The organization was completed by electing the usual officers. It was decided to meet on the Wednesday following the fourth Tuesday of each month. Every effort is being made to make this organization successful.

Mrs. Roy Clark was hostess to the Elite Embroidery club at her home on North Front street, Thursday afternoon. Those privileged to be present enjoyed a delightful afternoon with needlework, chatting, social conversation and a very excellent luncheon. The decorations were carried out with ferns and Oregon grape. Besides the members of the club, Mrs. Rulifson was guest, who also assisted Mrs. Clark in serving.

The ladies of this club present each lady as her birthday comes with a small gift. Last month was the occasion of two, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Given, who were presented with hand-painted plates.

Next meeting with Mrs. Given, North Commercial street.

Parent-Teacher circle of Lincoln school will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30. The program will be in charge of Miss Cora Small, musical instructor, who will give an interesting talk on "Music in the Public Schools." The following program will also be rendered:

Grade V—Mrs. Mary Meador, teacher. Favorites, Autumn Leaves, America. Patrons and friends cordially invited.

Mrs. Earl Eyrle was hostess for the W. A. E. Club Friday afternoon at her North Capitol street home. Decorations consisted of potted plants and chrysanthemums. The additional guests were Mrs. Bernard Brewster (Theresa Benedict) and Mrs. Melson, the personnel of the club being Mrs. Michelson, Mrs. Hall Kane, Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mrs. Charles Fuller and Mrs. W. B. Munier.

Delicious plum pudding, made by noted cooks, on sale at the bazaar, St. Paul's church, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The demurrer to the amended cross-complaint in the case of C. L. Pepper, et al, against C. W. Webster, et al, was overruled today by Judge Galloway. This is an action over a note held by the Ladd & Bush bank and the property involved is located in Hood River.

Articles useful, articles artistic, articles attractive, will be on sale at the bazaar extraordinary, at St. Paul's church, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the open meeting of the Woodmen last night, Mrs. Charles Maxwell, a pupil of Dan F. Langenberg, featured the program, giving several splendidly executed vocal numbers. The first "I Bacio" was followed by an encore, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." Her voice is large and full and her diction perfect.

Dainty home-made candies on sale next Tuesday and Wednesday at the bazaar, St. Paul's church.

The funeral services of the late Lewis Savage were held this afternoon at the family home four miles northeast of this city. In this city services were held at the Unitarian church at 2 p. m. and interment was had at the I. O. O. F. cemetery, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. lodge of this city, of which the deceased was a prominent member.

Many marvelous "mysteries" for sale at St. Paul's church bazaar, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The pastors of the city are especially urged to be present at the meeting of the Ministerial Union, Monday, at 10:30 a. m., in the Y. M. C. A., as the order of the day is the consideration of the coming evangelistic campaign under Dr. Ostrum, and it is desired that the list of churches and pastors co-operating be completed as soon as possible. J. C. Spencer, secretary.

Great show Sunday and Monday at the Bligh theater.

The total number of deaths exceeded the total number of births in the city of Salem by one for the month of November, according to the report of City Health Officer Miles. There were 16 births in Salem in November, eight males and eight females, and 17 deaths, eight males and nine females. Two cases of contagious diseases only are reported, one of pulmonary tuberculosis and one of typhoid fever.

Special features at the Bligh theater, Sunday and Monday.

Blaine McCord, the Woodburn attorney, is in Salem today in connection with the case of Ella J. Clark, et al, against the city of Woodburn. Judge Galloway issued an order in his court today dissolving the temporary injunction granted in the above case pending the outcome of the litigation. The plaintiff objected to their property being assessed for a sewer improvement, holding that the sewer was not sufficiently large or properly placed.

Silverware and cut glass. Gardner & Keene.

The Olice Homestead No. 973, brotherhood of American Yeomen, held their annual election of officers last night and chose the following to serve for the ensuing year: Foreman, Dr. B. E. Pound; correspondent, Dr. M. E. Pomeroy; master of accounts, Ernest Blue; chaplain, Fred S. Ryan. The other officers of the lodge are appointed by the foreman, and these will be announced later.

High grade umbrellas, detachable handles, Gardner & Keene, 388 State street.

At the meeting of the county court yesterday Robert Cole, of Gervais, was appointed road supervisor of District No. 15 to serve out the unexpired term of W. G. McCormick, who has moved from the district. The resignation of H. H. Bonney, supervisor of district No. 49, was accepted, but no appointment was made in this district. Special road taxes in district No. 15 of 3 mills.

No. 27 of 1 1/2 mills, No. 43 of 10 mills, No. 48 of 5 mills and No. 67 of 5 mills were not allowed by the county court because of irregularities in the publication of the notices in the newspapers. These districts will not be able to secure a special tax this year, as the time limit is now too short to get them into the budget.

Thursday evening, December 3, the Modern Woodmen of America elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: V. C. W. W. Hill, P. C.; A. J. Seculink, W. A. Geo. Reinhold, banker; E. E. Matton, clerk; Rex A. Turner, escort; Wm. A. Knapp, watchman; W. G. Prunk, sentry; Chas. Reinke, manager; E. Anderson, musician; Ivan G. Martin. Much enthusiasm was shown over the prospects for the coming year. An open meeting was arranged for next Thursday between the Woodmen and its auxiliary, the Royal Neighbors of America.

Judge Galloway received a telegram last night stating that his boyhood friend, Granville Allen, of Amity, would be buried at Amity today. Mr. Allen, or Grant, as he was familiarly called, was widely known as one of the most prominent farmers of Yamhill county. He was a pioneer of 1852 and the Allen family settled alongside of the Galloway donation claim after their trip across the plains in that year. Mr. Allen was one of the charter members of the Amity lodge, I. O. O. F., of which organization Judge Galloway is state grand master. A daughter of Mr. Allen, Miss Ina Pearl Allen, is a teacher in the Salem high school.

Merry Christmas
Happy New Year

The Red Cross Christmas seals will be on sale this week and we bespeak your patronage. Last year Salem bought more seals than any other city in the state outside of Portland. The following is a brief summary of the report given at the State Federation of Women's clubs: Financial aid has been given to 15 new tubercular patients this year, scattered over the state, as follows: Hood River, Milwaukie, Harrisburg, Medford, Forest Grove, Jefferson, Amity, Astoria, Oregon City, Cottage Grove and La Grande. This fund provides for a nurse who goes into these homes and teaches the care of the patient and also precautionary measures. In one home the mother had died of tuberculosis. She taught the daughter how to care for herself and the three little ones and how to care for food, especially butter and milk. One patient reports that he is well, the nursing food the Red Cross money enabled him to have, with the out-door life, had built up his strength until he is able to do for himself.

One place the nurse found a mother taking care of a son, not knowing how to use precautionary measures. The patient cannot live, but there are two sister that no doubt will be benefited by the nurse's teaching.

Five patients have died but consider the number of families reached.

The report shows that educational and relief work must go hand in hand in the campaign against tuberculosis.

BELGRADE TAKEN BY THE AUSTRIANS

FOLK DANCES TAUGHT AT WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

With the advent of basketball at old Willamette new arrangements have been made with relation to co-educational gymnastic training. Coach Thompson is now conducting all his classes during the morning hour, that being the only time at which the floor is not in use by varsity teams. Folk dancing is to be one of the main features of the co-education training during the rest of this semester and the following weeks of the last semester. New types of training are being tried out in order that a series of exhibitions may be staged later in the year.

EIG SHIP "ON AND OFF."

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—The steamship Great Northern, the $5,000,000 vessel built at the Cramp yard here for the Great Northern Pacific Steamship company, was blown ashore off Fort Mifflin today in a 40-mile gale. Six tugs, after working two and a half hours, pulled the vessel off and it steamed out to sea on a four-day trip.

Secretary of State Olcott has received a petition for the recall of M. J. Gerson, prosecuting attorney for Tillamook county, bearing the signatures of 791 citizens of the county, more than the requisite 25 per cent of the total vote cast at the last general election, on the ground of incompetency and failure to perform his official duties, thus incurring unreasonable and unnecessary burden of expense upon the taxpayers. Gerson, under the law, has five days from the date of the receipt of the petition in which to tender his resignation, and if he fails to do this the secretary of state will call a special recall election to be held within 20 days after the filing of the petition. Secretary Olcott has deferred action pending the expiration of the five days' time allowed for the tendering of the resignation.
